

A climate of trust? Society and climate change in Northern Ireland

The climate crisis is the focus of much social, political and policy debate, concern and blame. But whose responsibility is it to tackle climate change? And can they be trusted to act?

In this seminar, Professor Katy Hayward and Dr Jonny Hanson (Queen's University Belfast) will highlight findings from the 2024 Northern Ireland Life and Times survey, exploring public attitudes to climate change. There will also be short responses from Climate NI and the Rural Community Network.

The event will take place on Tuesday 27 May 2025, 10.30 to 12.00, in Room G/074, Lanyon Building, Queen's University Belfast. Refreshments will be available from 10am.

Places are free, but must be registered in advance at <https://tinyurl.com/NILT24>

This event marks the launch of the findings of the 2024 Northern Ireland Life and Times survey (<https://www.ark.ac.uk/nilt>).

The presentations will be videoed, and made available on the ARK site.

About the speakers:

Professor Katy Hayward MRIA FAcSS is Professor of Political Sociology in the School of Social Sciences, Education and Social Work and Co-Director of the Centre for International Borders Research at Queen's University Belfast

Dr Jonny Hanson is a Research Fellow in the School of Social Sciences, Education and Social Work at Queen's University Belfast and ARK's Assistant Survey Manager